Coffee High School . . .

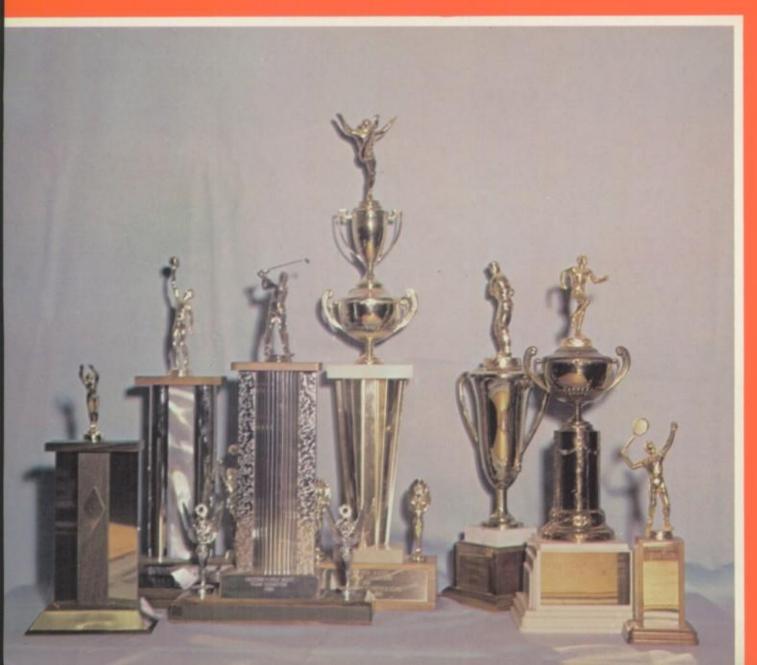

in its many facets is reflected by the students in their daily activities. They possess the vital qualities which transform an empty, inanimate building into a breathing, bustling body. The students generate the life.

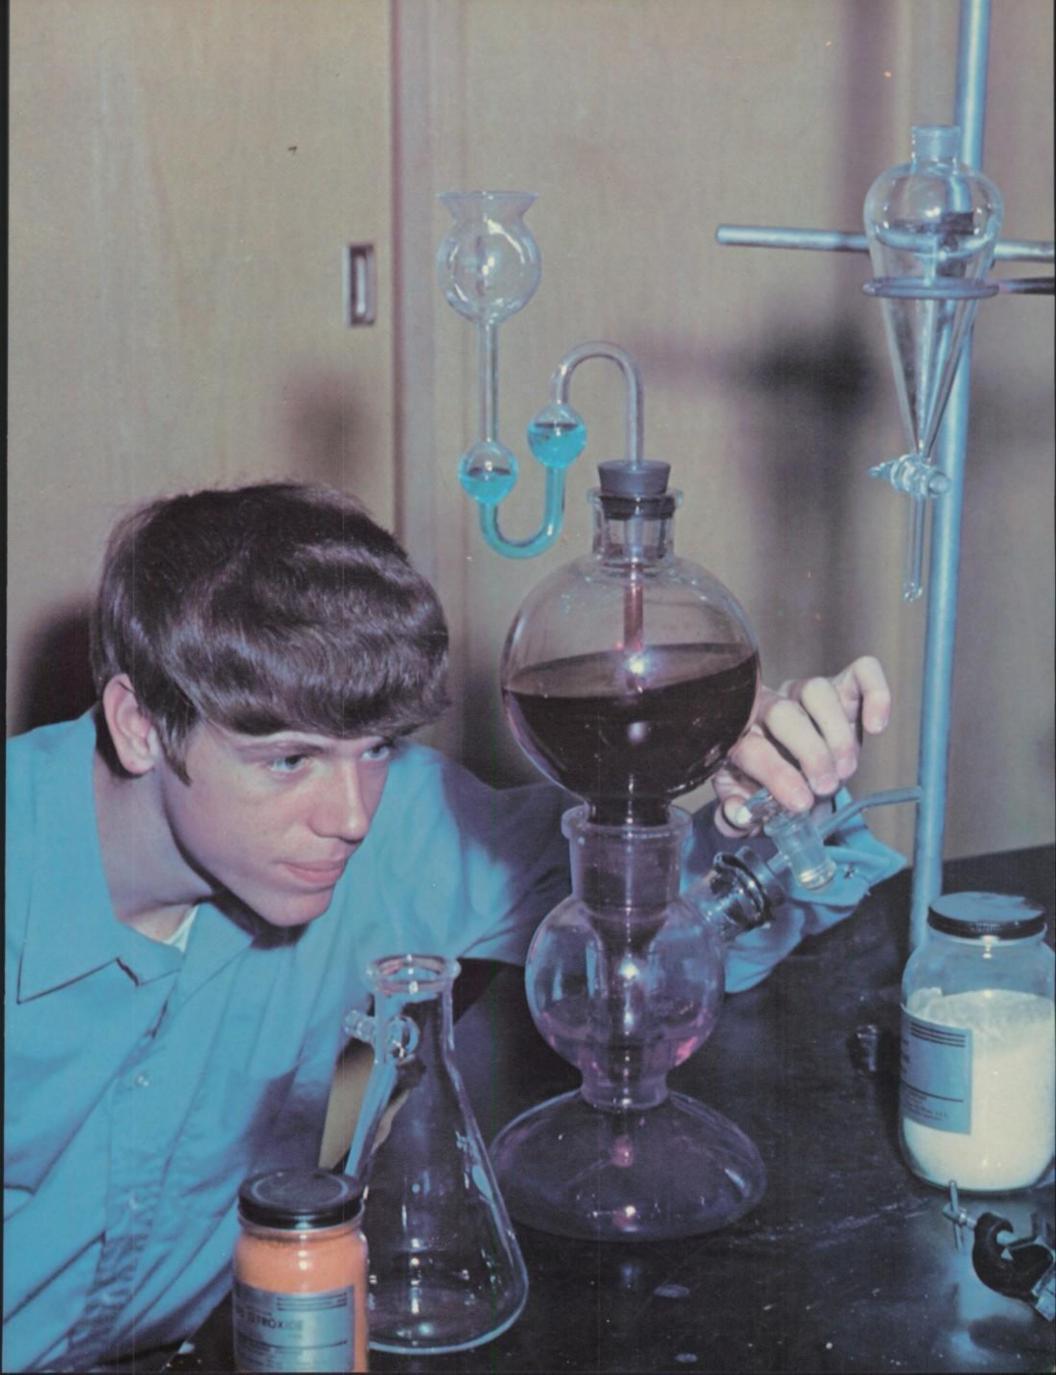

Exploration . . .

of the world and its mysteries is the key to finding the real truths of life.

Skill . . .

in any area of participation conveys to others that special pride which comes through the knowledge of a job well done, adding a certain different joy to life.

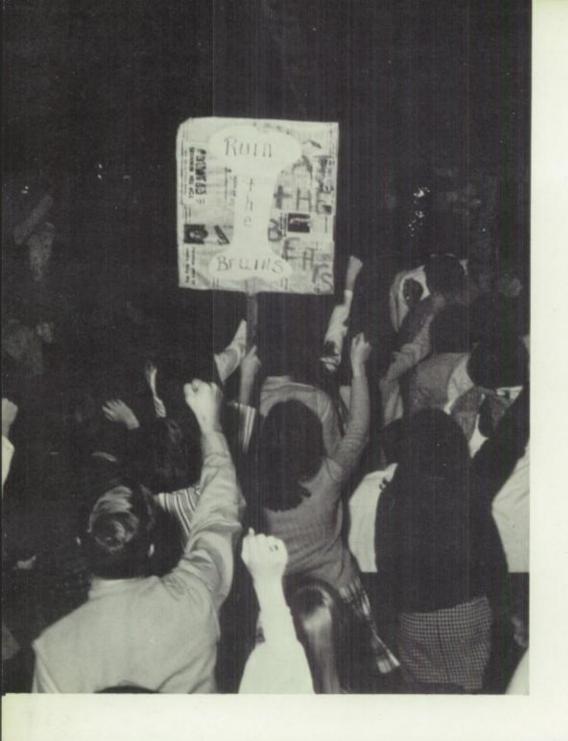

is the constant goal for all dedicated persons, for with it comes strength of character and hope for the future of life

both visible and unseen is the expression of the moods within a school, evidencing its triumphs and failures. It, too, has an important place in life.

Dedication

Think, think, and think some more. Separate the significant from the insignificant, the truths from the mysteries. These are just a few of your worthwhile suggestions to your students. No one can ever forget their first tackling of HAMLET. If a student can survive the initial shock of the many slashes of your red pen on his first theme, he is on his way and will make good use of your sometimes caustic, but always purposeful suggestions. Literature comes alive in your classroom. Your teaching methods are quite different and very refreshing. Your love and immense pride in the English language and literature are an inspiration to all you teach.

Your every action on campus shows pride in Coffee. You always attend the Senior meetings and pep rallies. You understand our need for discussion and listen to our problems. Your interest in us is shown by your picture-filled bulletin board, complete with enthusiastic slogans such as, "Coffee is where the action is!" and, "Happiness is eighteen different colors—all black and gold!" Although your gold mum with the yellow jacket is artificial, the pride and spirit that placed it there are genuine.

Wit and subtle humor spark your conversation. Possessing the ability to make each student desire to learn for the sheer joy of learning, you teach not just for the day, but also for tomorrow. You always listen sympathetically to any problem, which is the mark of a true friend. And so, because of our dedication in return for yours, we dedicate this fiftieth edition of the "COFFEE POT" to you—Mrs. Gractia Culver.

Administration

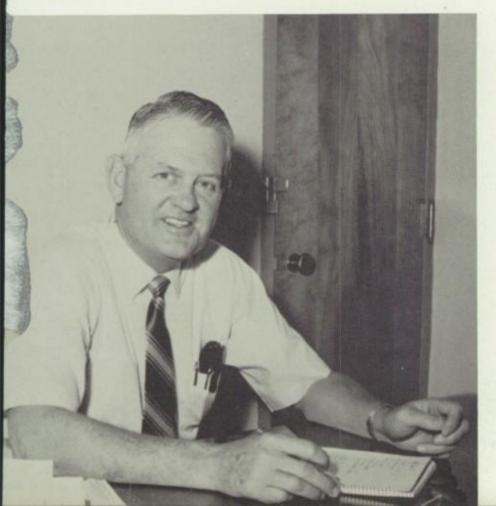

Principal Mr. Ralph Smith

Mr. Joe Grant

A principal automatically becomes a school's defender when necessary, best ambassador at all times, and truest friend on all occasions. He also must make decisions, say "no", and bear what is said about his policies. Through everything, he is kind, understanding and interested. Above all, he is fair.

Mr. Ralph Smith is such a principal. He is a man worthy of respect and admiration. A concerned man, Mr. Smith is always ready to listen to the new ideas. Unfamiliar situations which call for a mature outlook often arise in the school. Our principal stands ready to meet the problems. So much of the atmosphere of the school depends on the principal. Mr. Smith feels the pulse of the school and anticipates its moods and needs.

Mr. Ralph Smith offered the students a challenge—the challenge to work, grow, and improve together. The result is the very successful, exciting, and memorable school year of 1969-1970.

Assistant Principal

Often assistants merely stand silently in the background. However, Assistant Principal Joe Grant places emphasis on the word assist. His quiet dignity and strength give an added stability to the administration office. He has proved his stamina by his ability to accept victory and defeat with equal understanding. He is a man of high moral character and conveys the idea to all students that he stands behind them ready to help in any way possible. Coach Grant commands respect, which is bountifully given to him by the faculty and the student body. Coach Joe Grant is truly an "assisting" principal.

Mrs. Greta West-Secretary

Mrs. Dell Moore-Secretary

Secretaries and Guidance

The secretaries at Coffee work long hours to make the school "go". They manage the business and secretarial work of the office. These friendly, helpful women are due a special thanks for their constant care and efficiency in the office.

Guidance counselors are always available to assist and advise the students. Our counselors are ready to listen to problems or help us to find a college or a career after high school. They truly guide and direct.

Mrs. Thelma Robinson-Guidance Counselor

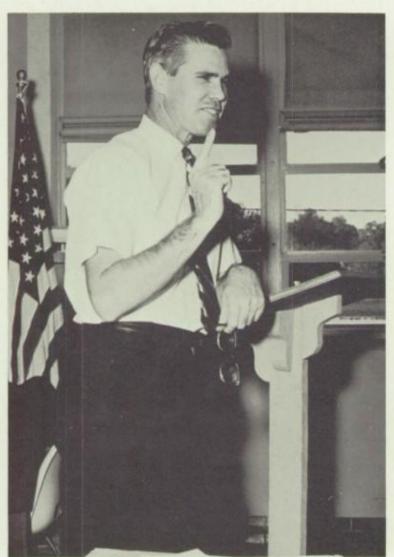

Jack Scarborough—Guidance Counselor

Business

Mrs. Ruby Brackin—Typing II, Shorthand II, Stimulator Typist Sponsor

Mrs. Ernestine Statom—Typing I, Shorthand I, Annual Typist Sponsor

Students who wish to learn of the business world find many courses available at Coffee for that purpose.

Future secretaries get valuable training in the Typing I, Typing II, and shorthand classes. Speed and accuracy tests as well as jobs prepare for office paper work. The different language of shorthand becomes familiar through dictation tests.

For those who are not serious secretarial students, but wish to learn to type, Coffee offered a new course this year—personal typing.

Bookkeeping, business, and consumer math courses prepare the student for administrative positions in the business world.

Mrs. Mayrose Johnston-English IV

An English course is an experience. Literature can lead the student into new fields of thought and an understanding of the deeper meanings of life. The intricacies of sentence structure and punctuation are fascinating and challenging. After completing four years of English at Coffee, each student has a solid foundation in English and all its aspects.

Margaret Reynolds—English II,III, American Field Service Club Sponsor

To learn to conduct oneself with ase and assurance when speaking publicly and discussing openly is the aim of the speech class. Impromptu talks, as well as planned discussions, change even the most shy speech student into a poised speaker.

Students seriously interested in the field of journalism as a possible life work are given a chance to actually learn about the press as well as write and edit in the Journalism class.

Mrs. Minnie Croom-English I, Freshman Class Sponsor

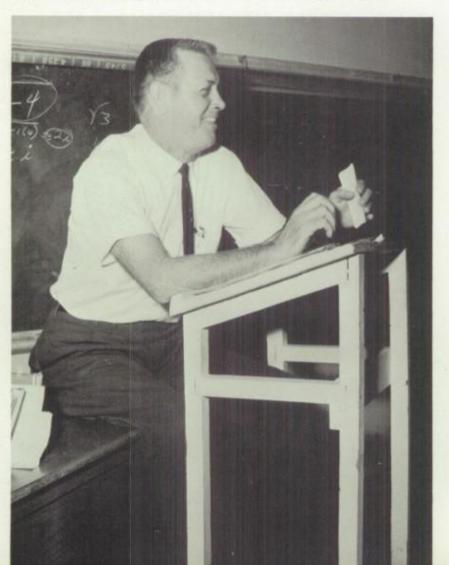

Thomas Ashcraft—general math

Mathematics

Mathematics at Coffee range from basic general math to advanced Math IV. Every student finds challenge in whichever one of the courses he chooses.

Although many frustrating hours go into a math course, the rewards of the struggle are many.

Art and Music

Although not everyone is an outstanding painter or sculptor, the art department at Coffee seeks to bring out the individual student's talents through the teachings of several art forms. Everyone can find his own particular media out of the wide variety offered. Most important of all, every student finds pleasure in creating.

Coffee is filled with musicians. Whether a student has a particular talent for singing or whether he plays an instrument, Coffee offers him a chance to display and develop his abilities. The band spends many hours of tedious practice to present to the school and the public many excellent concerts. The A Cappella also spends long hours rehearing their wide variety of musical selections. Coffee is fortunate to have such talented and creative directors to head its music department.

Miss Tera Hitchcock-Art I, Art II

Language

It is now possible for a Coffee student to be well versed in any of three languages-Latin, Spanish, or French. Also, the more serious language students can now take up to three and four years of their language. The classes give students not only a knowledge of the grammar and conversational use of the language, but also an insight into the cultures of the people.

Mrs. Joyce Arehart—French I,II

Mrs. Ruth Scarborough-English I, Latin I,II

Harold Glasscock-P.E., Basketball Coach

Harvest Mitchell-P.E., Football and Basketball Coach

Physical Education

Physical Education for Coffee students is made up of participation in all major sports—basketball, football, tennis, baseball, and volleyball. For the girls, the gym classes also include a day each week spent in pursuing the finer art of dancing. A few girls go through intensive training and practice in gymnastics. The special gymnastics class produces winning gym teams to represent Coffee.

Athletics are an important part of every student's curriculum, for a well rounded person in this world must be developed physically as well as mentally.

History, Government

History comes alive everyday in all classes of the history department. Students may choose to learn of the past in many courses at Coffee. Now available are world history, world geography, American history, and Alabama history.

Everyone should fully understand the workings of our local, state, and national governments in these complex, changing times. Also, each American should know and evaluate communism. The government classes at Coffee seek to prepare better, more informed citizens.

Mrs. Annie McClellan—American Government, Economics, Communism

Mrs. B.J. Godfrey—World History I,II, World Geography, Honor Society Sponsor

Mrs. Alla Mae Hudson-Librarian

Mrs. Viola Holder-Librarian

Library and Home Economics

Each student at Coffee has, at one time or another, smelled the inviting aromas coming from the Home Economics kitchen, or heard the whirr of the sewing machines. These are familiar trademarks of this department. Something new has been added this year—a Home Economics class for boys!

The library is a vital part of this school. Here we can always find up-to-date information on almost any subject. Through its many facilities, the library aids student and teacher alike in the complex search for knowledge.

Industrial Arts

Classes in mechanical and architectural drawing are offered to future draftsmen. The students' work with the ruler and T-square provide excellent training and a complete understanding of the art of drafting. Another phase of the Industrial Arts department is Shop. The students are introduced to the use of power tools, providing them with a basic training in woodworking.

A new course has appeared at Coffee. Under the guidance of a brave instructor, students practice the fundamental principals of safe driving.

Mrs. Hilda Beaver—Mechanical Drawing, Architectural Drawing

Student Assistants

Office Assistants—Kathy Hendrix, Jackie Marlin, Carol Lindsey, Paula Davis, Debbie Hannah, Linda Phillips, Gail Clemons, Patsy Carson, Rita Simpson, Sammie Wilson

Guidance Assistants—Gwen Robinson, Sandra Rose, Janice McKee, Gloria Overton, Roberta Smith, Charlotte Winters, Hannah Weakley, Brenda Brazier, Sheila Fowler, Ann Edwards

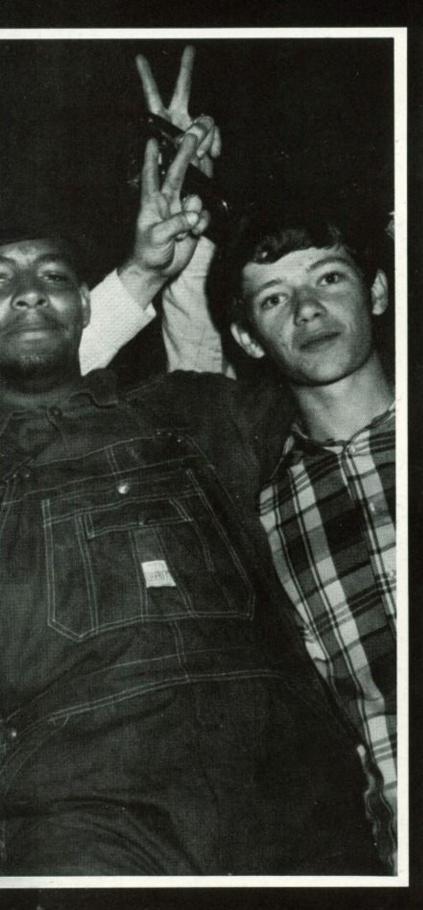

Stage Crew-Roger Briggs, Bob Capshaw, Doug Bradley

To take a little of the tremendous burden off the faculty, concerned students each year volunteer their time to help in many ways. Student assistants are found in the main office, the guidance office, the A.V.A. room, the library, and on stage. Understanding the intricacies of the light board, pulling curtains, answering endless phone calls, showing the same English film six times a day and typing transcripts are all thankless jobs, nevertheless, they are done diligently by these student assistants.

Seniors Class of '70

We, the Seniors, have no fears about our identity within Coffee — only fears of our identity in the world. Coffee has given what aid it can to prepare us for whatever the unknown future brings. It is now our turn to take these high school experiences and use them to face our future alone, independent and mature.

The Senior Class of 1970 became a part of Coffee as possibly no other class had done. We who had been here and loved Coffee for three years were joined by many new students, who took on the traditions of our school as their own and felt the same immense pride as we. Unified and strong, we went forward into this year hopefully, working together to create the best possible year for our school. We accepted our role as school leaders, and we hope we will be remembered as a class who cared not only about the success of our Senior class, but the success of the entire school.

The Senior Class of 1970 leaves this our motto as our farewell to Coffee High School.

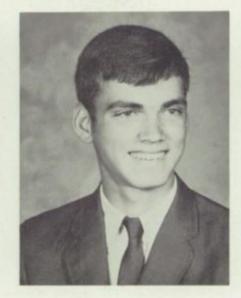

"The only time you must not fail is the last time you try."

Honors

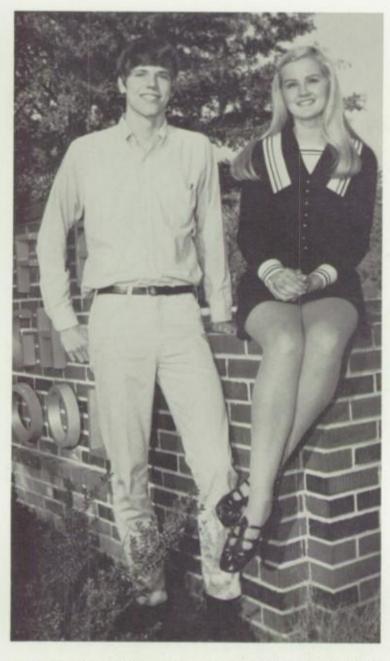

Junior Scholastic Medalist: Gay Blouin.

Boy and Girl of the Year: Mike Bolds and Melinda Mitchell.

Each year, many students distinguish themselves within the school. Only a few are selected as particularly deserving of special recognition. This makes each of the honors more meaningful to those students who receive the awards. Each award is truly an honor.

Boy's State is held each summer to give Alabama high school boys a closer look at our government. The rigid schedule includes early rising and strenuous exercising in addition to intensive testing on general facts about our government. The week's activities culminate in a day spent at the capital actually running our state government. At the end of the school year, the faculty selects boys from the junior class to represent Coffee at Boy's State. This year's representatives were Mike Bolds, Dudley Doss, Brant Young, Ralph Long, and Bob Grice.

Also selected by the faculty in the spring of each school year are a junior boy and girl to receive special recognition of their outstanding leadership and service to the school. Selected as 1969 Boy and Girl of the Year were Mike Bolds and Melinda Mitchell. This award is sponsored by the Florence Exchange Club.

Bernice Ann Glasscock was chosen by the faculty as this year's Miss Citizenship. As the name implies, outstanding qualities of citizenship are the prerequisites for this honor which is annually sponsored by the Daughters of American Revolution.

The junior who has maintained the highest cumulative scholastic average during high school years is presented a medal at the end of each year. In 1969, Gay Blouin was the recipient of this award.

This year, Coffee was particularly proud to have three of her more scholarly students named as National Merit Semi-Finalists. Jack Rowe, Mike Bolds, and Brant Young distinguished themselves through the Merit Foundation's annual testing program. This is not an award presented by the faculty. It is an individual student's achievement, based upon his rankings in the national scale. To have been named a Merit Scholar not only honored these intelligent boys but also Coffee High.

Boy's State: Brant Young, Bob Grice, Mike Bolds, Ralph Long, and Dudley Doss.

Homecoming 1969

October fourteenth came at last after long weeks of planning, long nights spent working, and the election of 1970's Homecoming queen and her regal court. The day began with the usual early morning yawn which soon turned into an excited smile at the thought of the day's activities. Classes were filled with sleepy faces but nervous anticipation until the long awaited one o'clock bell rang out its dismissal for the day and week-end. Much to the dismay of a few slow decorators of Home Room cars and floats, the parade began exactly on time-3:00 P.M. People lining the streets watched happily as Coffee's annual Homecoming parade crept by and all agreed that it was the best ever. After the dreaded clean-up time, everyone headed for home to prepare for the night's activities. An exciting football game and impressive half-time established the perfect climax of the day's activities and became another happy memory of our days at Coffee High School.

Coronation 1970

Coffee's twenty-fifth Coronation: a unique experience for those involved in making it a success, and also the realization of an innovation which gave the Coronation a new look for '70.

For this was the year that the Senior Class took over the entire production. Previously an event sponsored by the Student Council, it was now the child of the Senior Class.

And they met the challenge with the enthusiasm and industrious effort worthy of their class.

It wasn't easy. Given certain restrictions that had not been there before, they were told to cut expenses and not to work on school time. On top of that, they had little over a week and a half to plan and build it. Dresses were chosen with dizzying speed and work started immediately. At times it seemed that the work would never be done in time for that special night.

But all the fears and anxieties were unfounded. When the night came—February sixteenth—everything was ready. Nerves were taunt and the electricity of the moment could be felt in the air. "Was everything alright?" "How's my hair?" "Do I look alright?" "Do you remember what to do?"

Then it was over—almost too soon. No one had tripped and the crowning had taken place flawlessly. It had been a perfect coronation for everybody, one of which the memory would long be cherished.

Juniors are in between. Questions suddenly begin to rise—questions never thought of or cared about before. Trying to decide exactly what he is going to do with his life, the Junior looks around at the world as he never has before. Extracurricular activities do not offer only fun and excitement—they now give valuable experiences to help develop the inward character. Courses are not as easy and unimportant as they once were. The art of logic and reasoning begins to grow within each Junior. All of Coffee and the world are open to the Junior, to give to it and learn from it what he will.

A Junior realizes the importance of this third year at Coffee. For in this brief period of time, each individual must grow up, achieve maturity, and gain wisdom to accept the responsibility and leadership of their next high school year. They must make the most of their Junior life.

Sophomores Class of '72

A Sophomore is confident and poised. Having completed one year at Coffee, he is thoroughly familiar with all phases of campus life. A Sophomore is bold and brave. He has blossomed forth and now even engages the principal in friendly conversation. Seniors are no longer seen as objects to grin at sheepishly and fear greatly. A Sophomore is wise and clever. He no longer joins every school club but budgets his time between favorite activities. Everywhere at Coffee can be found evidence of the presence of the Sophomore. Signs give class support to every endeavor. Class members now appear on the football and basketball teams.

Sophomores are matured students with bright outlooks and new ideas. They know and are grateful for the happiness as well as the responsibility of being an active, working part of Coffee's student life.

Freshmen Class of '73

A Freshman enters Coffee to bravely face the unknown. He is sad at first to leave behind the group at junior high, and he notices that many of his favorite people have left the gang. Unfamiliar faces, sometimes teasing but usually friendly, suddenly fill the halls around him. A simple smile now becomes very important, extends welcome, shows acceptance. Coffee's numerous activities help to make him feel more "in." The clubs offer new friendships, different opportunities. Happy to perform any task, a Freshman joins and participates. He finds strength and security in his first class battle cry. Shyness and awkwardness gradually disappear as the weeks go by to be replaced by first-year self-confidence.

The Freshmen are marvelous creatures. They have found that they are no longer the big men on campus. However, with hope and eagerness, each Freshman begins again the long climb to the top, generating excitement and enthusiasm with each step. Coffee will always need Freshmen to add their own special spark of pride to school life.

Four candles, ceremoniously lit, seem such small symbols of such important ideals—service, leadership, scholarship, and character. These four are the basis for acceptance into the National Honor Society. This organization is not a club at Coffee, for membership is based on the individual student's merit. The selections of these members are made by the faculty from those students who have an 87.5 scholastic average twice each year. An evaluation of each candidates general participation and meritorious contribution in the school is made before final selection. Ten percent of the senior class is inducted in the fall ceremony. Five percent of the Senior Class and five percent of the Junior Class are tapped in the spring. Some few will always feel overlooked and will attempt to degrade the value of wearing the gold pin of this group. But, through it all, to be inducted into the National Honor Society will always remain as one of the most sought after and highly created honors here at Coffee.

Officers Brant Young, Mike Bolds, and Ralph Long prepare for the spring induction of new members.

'69-'70 Members are Inducted.

A social tea immediately follows each induction.

Student Council Sponsors Homecoming and Talent Show

It has been said that the Student Council is the voice of the students. But, the Council is much more than this—it is the students. This organization is the only one of its kind here at Coffee, for it can claim each student in the school as a member. Each activity is planned by the representatives who are merely the spokesman for each homeroom. Homecoming, Spaghetti Supper, Talent Show and Beauty Contest are only a few of the activities that are planned each year. Working from a new Student Council room, the officers and many concerned students planned the 1969-1970 convention of the Alabama Association of Student Councils held here.

But the job of the Council goes much deeper than simply co-ordinating and planning school activities—every phase of student life must be planned so as to reach each individual student and involve him in Coffee.

Many persons may criticize and tear down the work of the Council. Others who are vitally interested in the school help in planning and working for Coffee. The opportunity for any student to attend the Wednesday afternoon meeting is always there. Suggestions or complaints are always welcome, for the Council is constantly striving to achieve its high goal of creating the best possible year for Coffee High School.

Wearing a large "C" is a credit to any athlete. Playing on a muddy field, tasting sawdust, confronting tackles twice your size, falling on hardwood floors and breaking bones are sensations the average spectator never knows. They are prerequisites for membership in the "C" Club.

Every active and fun-loving student knows the importance of having a place to go on dates. Members of the Junior Recreation Board meet with students of other local schools in order to plan activities for the weekends. The dances sponsored by this organization are always popular. What would Homecoming be without a dance? The Sadie Hawkins dance in the spring gives the girls a chance to assume the role of the pursuer. Coffee students are indebited to this hard-working group.

Coffee Drama Club Presents

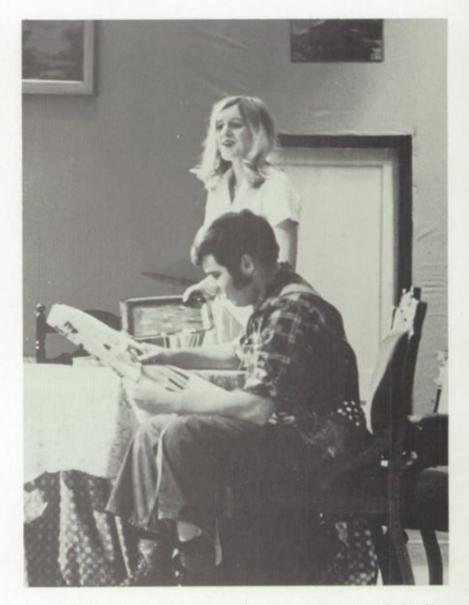

Acting A Challenge

The masks of Tragedy and Comedy, symbols of the Drama, sum up in many ways the activities of the Drama Club 1970.

Mirth and sorrow, laughter, and tears are essential parts of Drama. They appear not only in the performance itself but in rehersals, the dressing room, and during the building of the set. Laughter, the result of the assistant director's being thrown in the incinerator, was well balance by the agony of a dropped line. And everyone was well acquainted with these immortal words—"Go back three pages you missed your cue."

A play involves memory work, characterization and a feel for drama on the part of actors and hands stained with grease paint, smashed thumbs and sleepless nights for the stagecrew. However, a play also gives one the feeling of losing one's own ego in the portrayal of a character. It means the satisfaction of a well-built set and the knowledge that the audience is pleased with the overall effect.

A successful play is an exhilarating experience—the feeling of a job well done—the perfect example of team work. The Drama Club 1970, however, was more than a team—it was an experience in good fellowship and an exercise in patience.

Helga Strattman and David Harrison rehearse their dialogue at breakfast table.

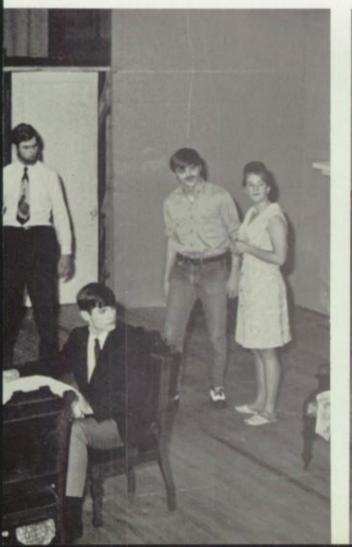

The family gathers around the dinner table to discuss important matters.

"You Can't Take It With You"

Many long hours of hard work go into the play.

Mrs. Statom, Typist Sponsor

Experience is not always the key to success either in life or in putting together an annual, but a rare blend of determination, creativity, patience, and eagerness is the formula for success. The 1970 Coffee Pot Staff had a few veterans, but many beginners. With a new sponsor and a new room, the staff went forward to learn about as well as to form an annual. This lack of previous, experience did not create complete chaos, but rather a wealth of new ideas. The difference and originality of the Coffee Pot will distinguish it from its predecessors.

It is difficult to state in a few lines just what this annual is trying to depict. So many changes, additions, weaknesses, strengths, victories, defects must be shown to be a true record of Coffee's year.

Pictures or words alone are not enough. Only if each individual student can, in his mind, search these pages not just to criticize but to find here the capturing of the year's memories. The staff must tell a story—the story of Coffee 1969-1970. The staff with its chosen theme of "the life of the student," hopes to have presented you with just that. So in years to come, you may thumb through this annual and remember everything that made this year what it was.

Only a newspaperman can understand the hardships and pressures of getting a newspaper printed and distributed on time. Advertisements, typing, proofreading, layouts, and deadlines, deadlines, deadlines: such are the worries of the staff members. Only a newspaperman can understand the disappointment in having an article rejected. The Stimulator staff has a great responsibility in that it is the staff and the guidelines they must follow which determine the success or failure of the paper. Only a newspaperman can understand the satisfaction of knowing that he has pleased his school.

Coffee High Band

"Guide right"... "You're rushing!"... "Watch the dynamics!"... "Don't splatter the last note". Anyone familiar with the Coffee High Band knows that these terms pervade the lives of all band members.

The spectacle of the band out on the football field at half-time was a welcome sight and for some little tots was a looked forward to period of worship and awe.

Band Director-Mr. Floyd C. McClure

First row: C. Rice, D. Glaister, B. Holland, B. O'Stein, B. James, M. McCullum, L. Collum, F. Holt; Second row: W. Hatchen, N. Hally, D. Lott, R. Foster, M. Boddie, A. McCamy, E. Byler, S. Mackey; Third row: D. Pierce, J. Haynes, E. Suggs, J. Thompson, A. Cohn, L. Collum, E. Kelso, T. McCord, B. Price, B. Grice, M. Temmons, M. Fuqua; Fourth row: E. Fowler, D. Bradley, R. Wilkes, L. Thompson, D. Thirkill, K. LeMaster, R. Skipworth, D. Roach, B. Capshaw, D. Lockhart; Majorettes: S. Mullins, M. Whitten, A. Brewer, S. Lyles.

Little did these spectators know the agony of frozen horns one minute before halftime, the pain of stiff and frozen fingers, and that the excitement of the fans watching the winning touchdown was topped off by the band's rendition of the familiar "Coffee will shine".

After football season, most people never hear about the band preparing for state contest, All-State try-outs, and the semi-annual concerts. Long hours of practice, sectional rehearsals, and the continual playing of the same numbers. All become bearable under the patience and dedication of our respected and loved director, Mr. Mac. Members of the CHS Land remember many little things Mr. Mac has done, which didn't pertain to music but to the thing everyone calls "growing up".

In times of pressure when all of the bandmembers wanted to play the music in such a way that the audience or judges will realize that word has gone into this presentation, Mr. Mac is always there with a confident smile or some small remark to let his crew of musicians remember that stagefright is only temporary. The judges are only men, not ogres. His understanding of music and people gives him the ability to smile when he hears a flat note and forgive the petrified freshman when he drops his horn. However, the standards he has set are high and his work has resulted in the naming of two Coffee High students to All-State Band and the claiming of fifteen "excellent Rating" medals at Solo and Ensemble.

Naomi Pugh, Bingham Hard Audrey Brewer, Jamie Roberson, Melanie Ellis, Susan Mullins, Cadella Brown, Sonja Liles, Marsha Whitten.

These smiling, high-stepping baton-twirlers fill an important place in front of the band. Their precision drills cause spectators to wonder at the coordination and quickness of these girls at each football game. Although they have many admires, few of their fans are aware of the dilemmas involved in being a majorette: broken zippers, goose bumps, wolf whistles, as well as dropping batons and getting out of step.

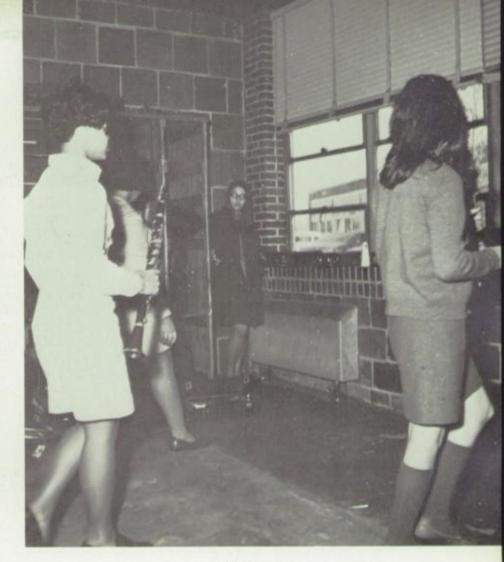

Without the majorettes the Coffee High marching band would be considerably lacking in appearance.

Drum Majors-Governors Johnson, Bob Grice.

Put 'm up.

AFS Student Helga Strattman Becomes a Part of Coffee

The AFS Club seeks to bring students of different countries together in an atmosphere of understanding and mutual respect. This year at Coffee the AFS Club has arranged for a foreign exchange student to to attend here. Foreign exchange students learn much from the experience of attending school and residing in a foreign country. By giving students an opportunity to live abroad for a year, AFS helps students to become indeed "Junior Ambassadors for Peace."

Helga Strattman from Germany is Coffee's Foreign exchange student this year. In the short time that she has been in America, she has also taught many of her fellow students much about her homeland. Thus, in even this small way, she has helped to bring a tiny part of both countries closed together.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club is concerned with aspects of homemaking which go beyond the classic cook-sew-clean cycle. By presenting programs on fashion designing, interior decorating, and etiquette, the club gives the girls invaluable information in the area of social entertaining. This information which is given to these girls will prove indispensable when they assume the roles of wife and mother in the years to come.

Quill and Scroll

The Quill and Scroll is not a club or organization here at Coffee. It is an honorary society for the students who are selected as outstanding in their schools in the field of journalism. Acceptance at Coffee is earned by superior work on the editorial or business staffs of the COFFEE POT or THE STIMULATOR. The sponsor's of these two school publications choose a very few students at the end of each year for a spring induction. To have earned this honor and he recognized in this way is gratifying to these journalists. But, alone this is the highest honor which they seek—the words of praise and "a job well done" from the most important critics of all, the student body.

Key Club

The Key Club, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club International, is composed of students who wish to render service to their community. Members aid and participate in community service projects. The Key Club hopes to produce a better citizen of tomorrow and to promote a better understanding of life for its members by encouraging them to take an active part in community affairs.

Sam Minor, Gil Robinson, Ray Creekmore, Dwight Ingram, Steve Leckenby, Alan Long, Bill Ward, Randy Nash, Brant Young, Mr. Scarbrough—Sponsor.

Future Teachers of America

This club is composed of students who are interested in helping others to learn about the world in which they live. These students are introduced to new techniques in teaching and in dealing with children.

Mildred Anderson, Debbie Simpson, Sammie Wilson, Laura Brown.

A Cappella

Coffee's A Capella consists of students who have the ability to sing and enjoy it. This group travels to many local schools and organizations with its program in song. Although they find much time for fun during practice, they gain valuable experience by singing under the direction of Mr. Alan Flowers.

Members Devoted to Nursing Work Through These Clubs

It is rare in this fast-paced, technical age full of glamourous, exciting job opportunities that some are still interested enough in their fellowman to devote their lives to nursing. Members of this club at Coffee gain knowledge of this indispensable profession which will help them not only to choose their particular phase of medical nursing but also to see this career realisticly, its trials and tribulations as well as its rewards. Whether or not she eventually enters this field, each girl leaves the the club a better, less selfish person for having been a little close to the "angels of mercy".

An established part of Coffee's school curriculum is the D. E. and D. O. classes. The students of these classes comprise the Deca and Vica Clubs. Through the aid of their teacher and sponsor, these students are capable of working in the fields of study which most interest them. Students receive two credits toward graduation while working each afternoon. After graduation they may enter into their particular field of occupation or attend college. Either way the experience of "on-the-job" training will be invaluable to them as they face the future, equipped and capable of maintaining a home and job of their own.

'70 Cheerleaders

Coffee's Cheerleaders this year have not stopped in their effort to promote spirit in the student body. They have endured long hours of practicing and making signs, colds, and hoarseness to support our team. They often made favors for the lockers of the individual football players and basketball players. Through their efforts we have had street dances, bonfires, and, on days when a full-length pep rally could not be scheduled, impromptu pep rallies over the intercom. The entire student body has felt and appreciated the efforts, abilities, and devotion of Coffee's Cheerleaders for 1970. The pride and spirit that they instill into the student body will always be an integral part of the school.

Modern Language Club

This year the French Club and the Spanish Club combined to form the Modern Language Club. Students learn more about the country which they are studying and about other foreign countries as well. Members help each other to learn by presenting programs, showing films, and adding to the general knowledge of all.

Allen Long, Molly Mitchell, Terry Irons, Kathy Downing, Anne Ray, Sherry Hannah, Rhonda Grigg, Beth Yarbrough, Ralph Long, Danny Sutter, Jimmy Smith.

Latin Club

For these students, Latin is not a dead language. It is a vital part of their school curriculum. Through programs and discussions, these students learn more about the ancient civilization which used the language they are learning today.

When a large group of people gather, there is always a diversity of opinion. This situation always stimulates active and worthwhile discussions. Here at Coffee, an outlet is provided for all students who are interested in talking over our national government and current events in the Government Club. One of the basic liberties is freedom to express oneself on all matters. Within this club, students use this guaranteed right, proving again the value of democracy.

Business Club

Business skills, ability to keep accurate records, quick thinking, and resourcefulness—such are the qualities and requirements of the successful businessman. Students who are members of the Business Club enjoy learning and practicing skills which will help them succeed in future occupations in the business world. They also spend time learning about the role of the businessman in the nation's economy by visiting various local businesses. The American economy affects us all and today's business students are striving to become successful leaders in tomorrow's world.

Science Club

For those whose thirst for scientific knowledge cannot be satisfied in daily classes, there is the Science Club. Films, outside speakers, and experiments help to increase the knowledge of future scientists and other interested students. In a world such as ours, scientific technology is a necessity and the Science Club gives interested students an opportunity to become better prepared for their scientific occupations in the future ahead.

YMCA Works for the Good of the Community

Sometimes groups bend and even give up their old ideals. The Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y program here at Coffee is not one of these groups. This year many changes became necessary within the program, but the basic high Christian ideals remained at the center of all activities. The YMCA is known for creating, maintaining, and extending their influence throughout the home, school, and community. Members of the various clubs worked together for such drives as the Heart Fund and the YMCA camp cleaning. The unforgetable experience of actually running the state government for a day is another big project of the YMCA.

However, problems were encountered. Many joint meetings of the Inter-Club Councils of Bradshaw and Coffee were held in hopes of keeping the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y program secure. Whatever changes the future may bring, the YMCA will continue, as it has in the past, to be a working, integral part of the student life at Coffee.

Does the record of a team always show its true worth? In the case of the 1969 Coffee football team, the answer is no. Luck, or the lack of it, makes the greatest difference during the course of a season. Our team had no luck; the talent was there; the desire was there; the coaches were there; but the breaks were not.

The Jackets started their season against powerful Woodlawn. The Colonels came to town and took away a 38-6 decision. However, on the following Friday night the Jackets put it all together in a well-deserved 23-2 shallacking of arch-rival Sheffield. Things were looking rosy, but not for long. Against Deshler, in the next game, the Jackets carried a 6-0 lead into the final four minutes when the bottom dropped out. The score was Deshler 16—Coffee 6. The next encounter was Russellville, the perennial 3A power. The Jackets played hard, but came out at the short end of the score 22-6. On the following week in a bitterly-contested game, the Jackets fell by a single point 7-6 to Athens. The team kept fighting. This was evident in the Homecoming game against Walker County. The Jackets played to the hilt, but Walker County won by the close score of 14-8. The next week the mighty Huntsville Panthers gained a 28-6 decision over the Jackets. Coffee's next opponent was Decatur. The highly touted Red Raiders were expecting an easy victory. They escaped with their lives. The Jackets played as they had never played before. With only eleven seconds left, the score was 0-0. The Jackets were on the verge of tying an undefeated, untied team. Then it happened. On a desperation field goal, Decatur won 3-0. The Jackets traveled to the Rocket City the next week, where Butler trimmed them 20-7.

Their last game was upon them, Coffee versus Bradshaw. Forget the rest of the season. As the game progressed, it was obvious that one team was superior to the other. The Jackets outplayed the Bruins in every phase of the game, but they lost again in the last eleven seconds 14-12. The Jackets could get no breaks.

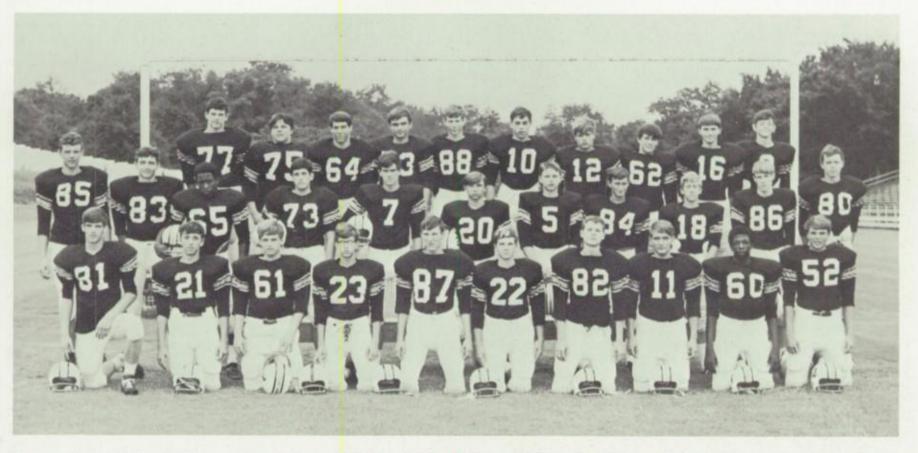

You can see how time and luck could have given Coffee four more wins. And you can understand the losses by looking at the ratings of the teams that were played. The Jackets played under heavy strains and before slim crowds, yet they played on.

Coach Grant, who led Coffee to many fine seasons and a state championship, resigned. Not only was this a loss to the team, but also a loss to everyone. He, however, will still serve as an inspiration to the players.

Basketball is a fascinating game. It's fast-moving, highscoring, and extremely entertaining. You can leave a game for a minute with a team leading by ten points only to come back and find that same team trailing by five. As in most sports, a basketball game is never over until the last few seconds tick away.

Coffee's basketball schedule was as tough as they come. Coffee realizes that to be the best you have to play the best. Many of the team's defeats came at the hands of some of the finest teams in the state. In most of these tough games, Coffee was right in the thick of it until the final minutes.

Coffee's season opened with a close 64-60 loss to Rogers. This did not set a good pace for the team. After another tough loss to Russellville, the team got its first taste of victory in a thrilling triple-overtime decision over Athens. This gave the new hope. But a two point loss to Sheffield in the last 12 seconds took a little of the wind out of their sails. However the team picked itself up and began to win.

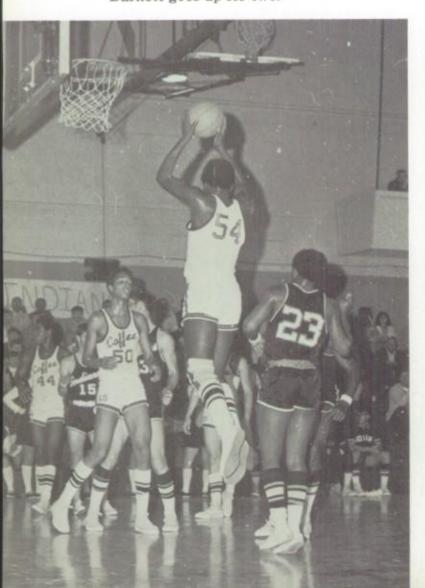

Head Coach Harold Glasscock.

They reached the finals of the Quad-Cities Tournament by defeating Bradshaw 64-60 and in one of their best games took Sheffield 69-62. However, Deshler took the championship away from them by taking a hard-fought seven point victory. Coffee played probably its best game in avenging an earlier loss to Russellville. At this time a great loss was felt by the team upon the resignation of our fine, long-time coach Harold Glasscock. Following this, Principal Ralph Smith took over the reins under these most difficult circumstances. He did his job well, but the team was unable to come through for him. The really heartbreaking losses came at this time. Deshler won 57-56 on two free throws in the last ten seconds. The team, since they had defeated Bradshaw twice earlier, was particularly stunned when its arch-rival took away a 62-60 victory on a lay-up in the last five seconds. The thing about these close defeats is that the team knows that if they had gotten one more break at the laste minute, victory might have been theirs.

Managers-Alan Barton, Steve Stevens, Ralph Long.

The regular season ended on a winning note with the Yellow Jackets defeating the new Huntsville school, Grissom, 79-72. The regular season record finished at 10-13. However, it easily could have been 15-8 with a little luck here and there. The team tasted another bitter defeat at the hands of Bradshaw in the Regional Tournament to close out the entire season.

All Coffee's '69-'70 basketball team needed was some momentum and a little luck. The ability was there. The team had good overall height, fine shooters, excellent ball-handlers, and good defensive men. However, they just couldn't put it all together in every game. When they did, they brought home victories. When they didn't, the result was usually a tough loss. One thing is sure, they gave the best effort they could in every game. The old saying goes, "You can't win them all", but this doesn't console the team at all, because they know they should have.

This year Coffee fielded its Second Year Wrestling Team. The boys had matches with other area wrestlers. Hard working Merle West led the experienced boys to a 5-5 season. There are 15 matmen: Danny Hendrix 101 pound group; Jeff Steward 110 pound group; Leslie Littrell wrestles in the 118 pound group and Joe Tate gives the team 140 pounds. Jerry Rohling weighs in at 148 while David Foster wrestles in the 158 pound class.

Walter Bailey challenges the 168 class; Harrell Southern wrestles in the 178 pound class. Stanley Lash, Brent Wallace, Jimmy Vessels, Tommy Hammock, and Steve Witt wrestle exhibition.

We expect to have most of the boys back next year which makes us fell sure that the team will be even better.

Golf Team

With springtime comes golf time. The grass on the golf course becomes green under the warm sun. On such a sunny spring day the Coffee golfers have an unsatiable desire to get out on the course.

The Coffee Golf Team has been preparing for the upcoming season. They have worked very hard for self-improvement, because they are aware of the rugged schedule ahead. In the past the Jacket golfers have put up an impressive showing. This year's team is composed of some hard-working and talented golfers, who are full of school pride and spirit. Behind the hard driving, precision putting, and determined effort of Steve Schneible, Johnny Allgood, Danny Sutter, and Larry Haddock the team under the direction of Joe Grant has great expectations.

1970 Swim Team

Although swimming is listed as a minor sport, it doesn't mean that the time and work that go into it are less than any major sport. The Coffee Swim Team practices three times a week for an hour. Sometimes they play water polo for a break in the monotony of practicing, but usually it's the same old drudgery. There are times when the swimmer feels that he has had enough of practicing-his eyes burn from the chlorine, his muscles cramp, and the laps up and down the twenty-five yard pool seem endless. But in the end the aches and pains are worth it. For in April the team travels to the state competition. Despite its small size, the team has always made a good showing, usually taking first, second, or third place in most of the events in which Coffee swimmers are entered. It isn't easy to work all year and get so little recognition, but the Coffee swimmers are used to it. It's just another part of the game.

Barbie Morley shows perfect form.

Harris and Doss shoot out of the blocks.

Of all sports, track requires the most individual effort. The quality and success of the whole team is based upon what each individual members can contribute. Being aware of this, each trackmen must strive towards personal perfection in both form and style. To accomplish this he must endure long hours of gruelling practice. Although true personal satisfaction that can be received in any sport. Each win belongs to the individual as well as the team. When a sprinter takes off or when a shotman heaves the shotput, he is not only in competition with others but also himself.

The track season is upcoming and the Coffee trackmen have worked hard preparing for the upcoming track meets, among which are the many area meets and the big, all-important TVC meet. These meets are expected to be tough ones. However, the Jackets are optimistic about this forthcoming season. They are really down to it and are practicing hard. Under the watchful eye of Coach Charles Gooch, these school-spirited boys have a lot to look foreward to.

However, this work has paid off for Coffee's netters. Last year's season was highly successful, and this year promises to be even better. Under the leadership of Miss Small, the team plans a very busy season and possibly even an attack on the state tournament.

Tennis Team

Perhaps the reason that tennis is considered a minor sport is that is that it lacks the excitement of games like basketball and football. Basically, it is an endurance sport. Few games are as tiring as a long three set match. For this reason, tennis players must be in tip-top condition. The obivious consequence is that long hard hours of work are required.

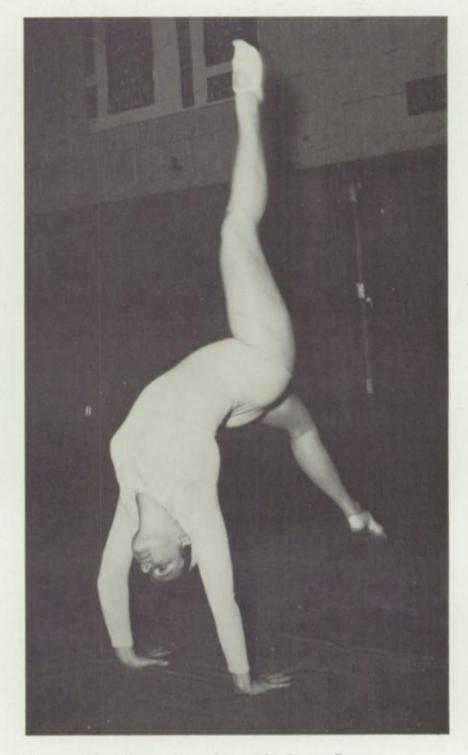

Fred Holt hits a crosscourt backhand as Karl Potts looks on.

One of the most persecuted groups at Coffee High is the Girl's Tennis Team. They are unknown, ignored, and overworked. In spite of all this though, they keep winning. Exhausting practice every day and several meets a week are rough enough on boys, but it takes a truly perseverant girl. If work were a measure of recognition, these girls would each get a full page writeup.

Martha Hortenstine executes a cartwheel off the balance beam.

From the first forward roll to the last walkover the girls of the Gymnastics Team are examples of grace in action. To achieve expertise in the techniques of the balance beam, parallel bars, and vaulting requires not only muscular agility but determination coupled with practice. This year these girls have represented Coffee well.

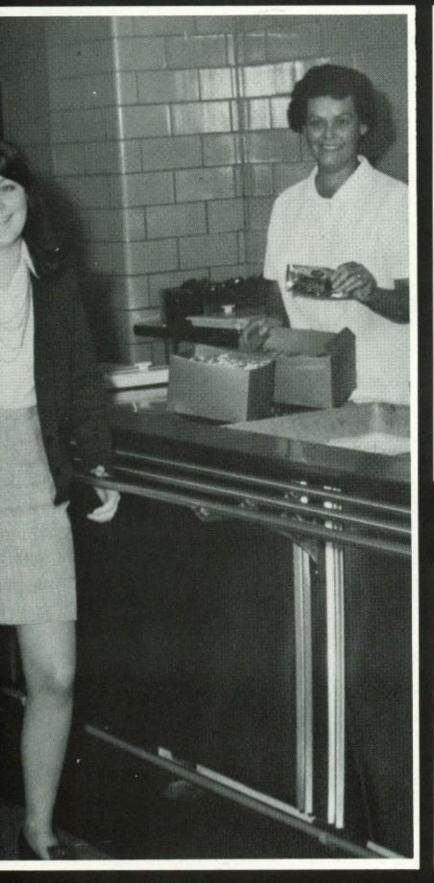

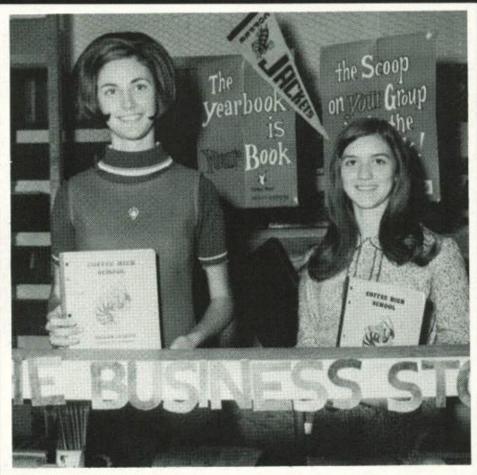

A graceful walkover is performed by Laura Brown.
